Mandala is the Sanskrit word for circle. Within many traditions the mandala is a sacred symbol of the spiritual journey. Mandalas can be found all around us in nature, in architecture and art.

The creation of mandalas can be used to help bring wholeness and healing to a person's life.

We invite you to attend a workshop examining the use of mandalas as a tool for spiritual accompaniment.

We will use the experience of creating our own mandala to explore the efficacy of using mandalas for the spiritual deepening of those we accompany.
